SCHOOL LIFE

Step right up! Step right up, ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls! Right this way for the circus of events "Under the Big Top," a big top with three exciting rings filled with main events, thrilling side shows, highlights and special attractions, all starring you, the performers.

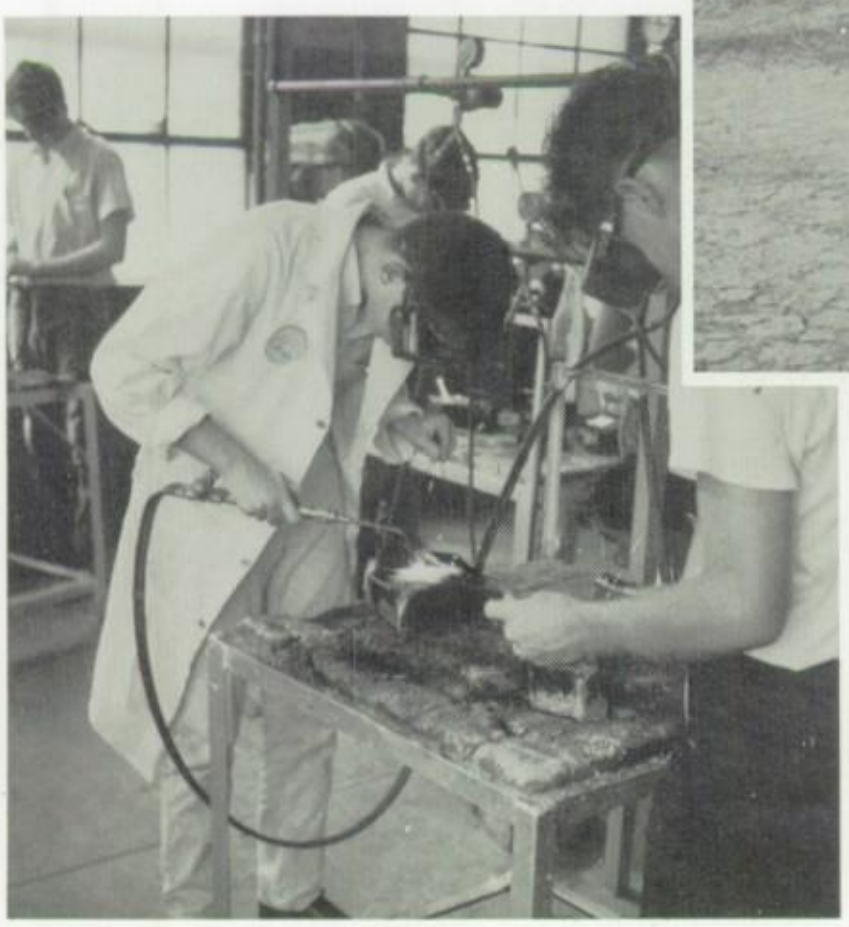
The Central Circus lights up at 8:20 a.m. to the music of buzzing bells and late footsteps as students rush to their first period class. Lights on, the band strikes up, setting the background for three concurrently-active rings: classes, campus-dailies, and student spirit.

Classes are the center ring under the big top. Whether they be required classes or elective classes, you the performer prepare yourself for the ultimate in your act, life.

Campus dailies, the second ring, include breaks between classes, quick trips to the lockers, long lines for refreshments at noon, and parades around the campus during the lunch period. Also, the day wouldn't be complete without a Spartan Center transaction, whether it be ASB cards or otherwise.

Our ringmaster, Student Body President Ray Strackbein, directs us to a third ring, school spirit. Rousing pep assemblies led by flying, vibrant cheerleaders and songleaders set the stage for Spartan character and boost the morale of our teams.

At 4:15 p.m. the big top folds, however, and as it does the performers make their exit, a hurried one, so that they might prepare for a new entrance under the big top.



EDITOR'S NOTE

In a matter of mere seconds, you will be captured in a world of gaiety and colors. Excitement will be at your fingertips as the "Big Top" unfolds and page by page, Central's moments are recollected for you.

We owe a big round of applause to our circus hands — the 1965 La Solana staff. Hardly ever in the spotlight, they are the ones who strive all year long to make this book a success.

It is vital to have a staff that will work with ambition, but just as important is the sponsoring we have maintained from our local businessmen and the service of our local photographer, Mr. Douglas Bliven. We certainly owe all of them an infinite amount of thanks.

For anyone, it is a high honor to be chosen editor and even though I will leave the title behind for someone new next year, I will take with me all the fun and experience I have shared. And now, as editor, I give you with pride this 1965 La Solana. Take it, read it, and cherish it forever.

Very sincerely,

Becky Mouser

DEDICATION

Behind the closed door of Science #5, an open door to knowledge, teaches a man of extraordinary ability. Every hour of his working day is spent challenging the students with the intricacies of the biological sciences. Few teachers can achieve a successful teaching technique which rarely fails, but Mr. Mirakian's success seems to be patented. From the hundreds of students he has educated, vivid memories can easily be recalled —whether they be the disquieting looks of disapproval or a smile as he tries not to show his appreciation of the students too openly. For the unlimited attention, for the limitless desire for self-improvement both intellectually and personally, off campus and on, and because he has not merely told us, but also set an example, we DEDICATE to you, MR. MIRAKIAN, the 1965 La Solana.

PRINCIPAL

To be associated with Central Union High School for the past four years has been a privilege. May I take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the cooperative efforts we have enjoyed during this time.

It has been a rewarding experience to see the progress and growth of this school, the students and the community. As the graduates of 1965 leave to go their various ways, may they find continued success and happiness in their individual endeavors.

To each of you, as you review your educational experiences throughout the coming years, may there be memories of the part you played in the success of your school. Thanks to each of the faculty and students for your friendship, loyalty, and service.

As June 10, 1965 came, so did graduation, a time eagerly awaited by 362 seniors; a day which had taken four short years in coming. Many things and many changes had taken place, not only in ourselves, but on the campus and in the nation.

Monday, September 11, 1961, we entered Central as bewitched, bothered, and bewildered freshmen—bewitched by the size, bothered by the change, and bewildered by the system. In a few short weeks, all was overcome and we quickly fit into the groove, perplexed by nothing. The freshman year brought for us our first Christmas dance, opened to frosh only. 1961 brought for the school the first of the annual Christmas Decorating Contests.

Once on the spring, we bounced into our second year, proud, perpetual, and persevering — proud of Central, perpetual in spirit, and persevering as scholars. With enthusiasm as our trademark, the Class of '65 had its name engraved on the spirit trophy, another first at Central. We also ran away with first place in the chariot race, and inevitably we were becoming sophomores in the true sense of the word.

The Fall of 1963, presented itself in a rich mingling of work and play. "Pillow Talk" was a class "A" production, perhaps equaled only by the play in our senior year. Committees and class officers worked together to create an "Evening at Tara," our first dance of real formality and grace. The Seniors, before leaving, returned "Sayonara" to us. Our third year also brought class rings, some of which were never worn by the boys.

At last came the climax, our senior year, one of many events and happenings — moments of, again, spirit, moments of seriousness, and even moments of sadness. The greatest Fall event was the return of the IVL football championship, which had been absent from Central for nine long years. Once again the seniors graced the spirit trophy with "Class of '65" and again grabbed first as they streaked across the finish line in their lightning-fast chariot. "The Man Who Came to Dinner," ending the theatrical productions for the class of '65, was acclaimed "tops" by all who saw it. The greatest production of all then followed —not a play, not an athletic event, not an excellent grade, but graduation — the culmination of four fulfilling years.

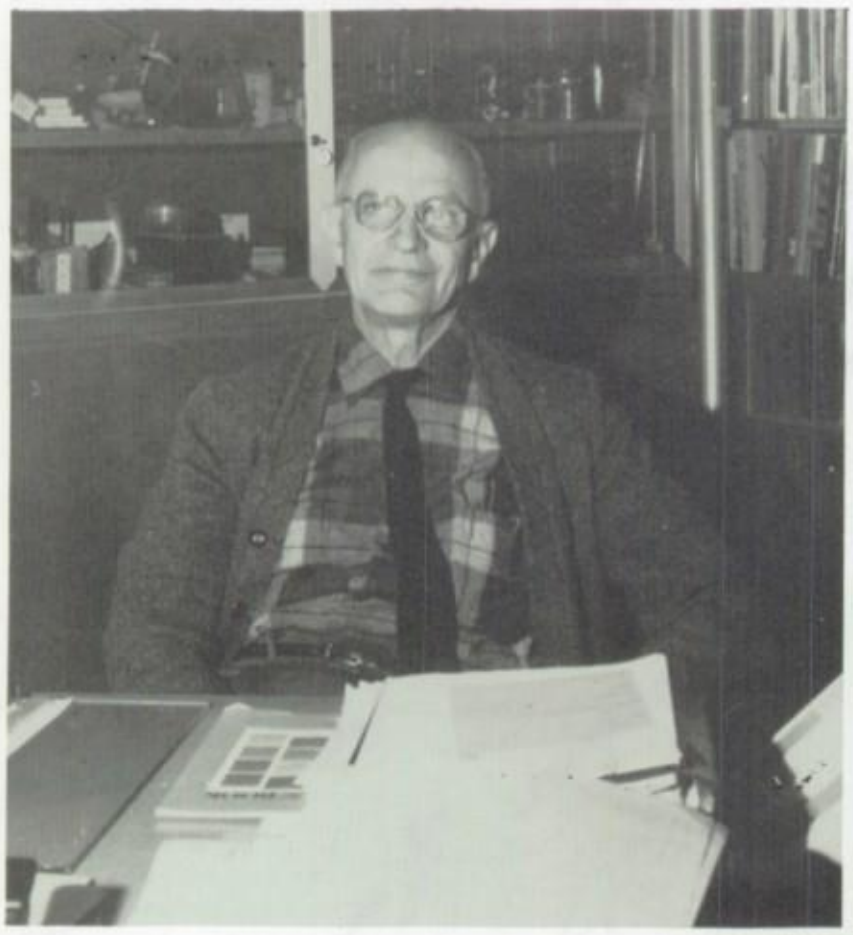
As we graduated from good ol' C.U.H.S., we took with us, not only lasting friendships, but such memories as the SHIELD which we so anxiously awaited each Friday at noon; the term papers we never began until the last day; such "sacred rituals" as a drag or two down Main, and a coke or two at Foster's. As we clutched our diplomas in our hands, we took a symbol of some of the most valuable education and information we will ever use in our lives. Some of it came easily and some with great heartache, some from the classrooms, and some not, but this was Central, and though we may leave it, Central will never leave us.

SENIOR SCRATCH . . .

Pat I'm not sure it will fit on here but I wish you the best of luck and success in the future. Please write so I'll know how you're doing. Have a great senior year.

Love ya,
Linda R.

"SENIOR" TEACHERS RETIRE



As another year draws to a close and we look in retrospect, we find many things have happened on the campus of C.U.H.S.

In the coming year we will find several absences in the faculty. Mr. 'Mac' McCracken, Mrs. Nettie McCracken, and Mr. Robert Blake will retire this spring.

Mr. McCracken, CUHS's science department head, has been teaching chemistry for 34 years, and his "World's Biggest Match" will flame with his students for many, many more years to come.

Mrs. McCracken has been teaching for 23 years on our campus. Though she has taught other languages she has been most consistently engrossed in Latin I and II, making so very real the battles of Julius Caesar.

For the past 8 years, students have been traveling with Mr. Blake through the various facets of social studies. He has also been an inspiration to many prospective future teachers.

We now say, on behalf of the faculty and student body, thanks and best wishes for a well deserved rest.

The Juniors used as its creed this year, "High and Great Ideas." Striving for recognition as a superior class, they worked to support the school in both academic and extracurricular activities.

"Three Coins in the Fountain" was the theme for the Junior sponsored 1965 Homecoming dance. Everyone who attended added a memorable experience to their high school days as they danced to the music of Chuey Torres.

Another main event of the class of '66 is the Junior-Senior Prom. Transformed by magnificent decorations, the new multi-purpose building provided a mysterious and romantic setting for the waltzing couples.

This year drew to a close with the Juniors feeling satisfied but looking forward to a great Senior year with enthusiasm.

CSF HONORS ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

Officers: Mike Halverson, pres.; Sharon House, hist.; Jayne Chappell, sec'y.; Dawn Dray, treas.; Steve Hui, vice-pres.

Among the many interesting and worthwhile clubs on the campus is the California Scholarship Federation. CSF is a somewhat exclusive club because it is open only to those students with an "A" average. Among its varied activities is the annual trip, which is usually held in March. Students look forward to achieving the qualifications to join this interesting club and to gain the respect that comes with the membership.

SpartanoteS

Something strange but fascinating is happening to the people of El Centro this week.

When checking the stores we find ew people browsing through the nerchandise. The sidewalks aren't nearly so crowded to walk on. It's easier trying to park at the Valley Plaza because there aren't so many cars filling the parking spaces.

Main Street doesn't seem to be s busy as usual with the teen traffic. There are fewer teen-agers to e found hanging out at Foster's. The parties are even on the slack!

As peculiar as it may seem, we ind both teen-agers and adults valking north on Highway 86.

What is happening to all of the people?? Is El Centro being deerted or evacuated?

No, El Centro is not falling apart s a city. It's just that the annual California Mid-Winter Fair is here nce again!!

HOW TO DO EVERYTHING!

Dear K.C.

Dear Students:

Last year we were both entertained and inspired by the "Dear Peggy" column written by Peggy Slocum, Girls' Welfare 63-64. This year it is our privilege to continue this advice column under a new name: "K. C."

Into school life some rain must fall. We, Darlene King and James Carlberg, Girls' and Boys' Welfare will try to answer your letters so that you will be able to chase those clouds away and let the CUHS sun shine through.

We cannot accomplish this goal without your help. Please put your letters with complete confidence in the blue and white "Personals" box in the Journalism room, English 2. Your interest and cooperation are a "must."

Respectfully,

K. C.

1. The oldest excuse in the world is, of course, the library. The trouble is that this can be used for only about two hours a night and just on week nights. Besides, exactly how many months can you work on one history report?

3. As everyone stands patriotically to salute the flag which is to the RIGHT, on bended knee sneak down from the LEFT to the middle of the bench and plop down in some poor soul's place.

5. If a girl tries to throw herself into your arms, take a quick step to the side. That should do it, and quite nicely, I should think!

CANDIDS

The club activities of the 1964-65 school year have been profitable in many ways. The members of AFS have, for a Central first, brought two foreign exchange students to El Centro. The Art Guild again made rooter ribbons; and the Field Science Club visited many fields. NFL and FHA traveled to other schools with their activities and the Key and Anchor Clubs collected clothing for the Northern California disaster area. A tutoring service was given by the Future Teachers; the "farmers" again participated in fair activities. The glee clubs and band deserved applaudes in a variety of places; the LA SOLANA and SHIELD staffs have outdone themselves and hope that the students enjoyed their work.

The dances, parties, breakfasts, meetings, initiations, and work of the sideshows have been put in storage now, but come September, they will be rolled out for another wonderful season.

COACHES MAKE SPARTANS

Assistant Coach
Mr. Len Kuczewski

Mr. Jim Davis

Managers Tim Benson and Bill Lucas

This year Central was very fortunate in having three excellent coaches, Head Coach, Mr. Jack Davis, and assistants, Mr. Jim Davis and Mr. Len Kuczewski. Each one, being a veteran of the game, knew the ups and downs, and taught our Spartans well.

Coach Davis's experience came from the University of Arizona where he lettered three years and was the captain of the team his senior year.

Coach Jim Davis was also a three-year letterman, having lettered his sophomore year at Harden Simmons and at Central Oklahoma State his junior and senior years where he was also on the All-Conference second team as "end."

Coach Kuczewski donned football togs for the University of Wyoming where he, too, lettered three years. He was captain his senior year when they played in the Sun Bowl. Mr. Kuczewski was chosen player of the game, an honor never before given to a lineman.

Our school and community owe a great deal of appreciation to these coaches for their fine team handling and successful season.

Football was the word this fall at Central because of the fine performance of our varsity squad. With a league record of 5 wins and 1 loss, the team came from "nowhere" to win the championship and go on to the CIF playoffs.

Fine performances by the speeding half-back "Tornado," Tommy Sanchez, hard-hitting fullbacks, Bill Henderson and Robert Benefield, and the perfected blocking by back, David Middleton, helped to put the Spartans on top. Great performances by the 140 pound guard, Richard Nicholas, and by the "Chinese Bandits," Robert and Clinton Mah, plus "Sticky-fingers," Mike Halverson, aided in proving the offense. Outstanding line action also came from the "Both-way" boys, Roger Irving and Steve Paddock, while Bill Douthitt did an exceptional job at defensive guard. A vote of confidence goes to quarterback, Charles Wattles for his fine team handling, to end Paul Trapnell, for his fine blocking, to John Wagoner, team captain, and to the entire team effort, often springing our backs to pay-dirt.

A note of thanks and deep gratitude is due this great team which put Central back in the football spotlight.

The Junior Varsity played average football as they wound-up in fourth place in league standings. The J.V. was handicapped by changing from last year's failing single wing formation to a Split-tee formation. The boys gave the Spartan fans many thrills and displayed a lot of hard hitting and experienced football. Coaches Del Busch and Joe Encerro did a fine job developing the boys as first year coaches at Central. The J.V.'s show much promise for next year and have many fine potential varsity football players.

The Freshman football team this year was not too successful in the win-loss department. Their season record was 0-7-1. Although the "Little Spartans" weren't a winning team, they were successful in one aspect, that of gaining experience.

Coaches Stan Wintermote and Stan Ginger worked their boys hard and helped them to prepare for their future years of football here at Central.

The Cross Country Team placed second in their league under the excellent coaching of Mr. Ed Raulston. The Spartan "Distancers" prepared for their league competition by running against teams of larger schools. In league competition, the boys had a 2-2 record. Seven cross country members went to SCIF.

Mr. Raulston feels next year's team will be much improved because the majority of his team will return for next year's competition.

These boys deserve recognition for doing such a fine job with a fairly new, second-year sport.

The Spartan cagers were on their way to a very successful season as the annual went to press. They posted a 10-win, 5-loss record with only one league encounter having been played. Among the wins were two successive victories against Calexico and Brawley to bring them top honors in the Holtville tournament.

Curtis Watson was their key to success with a scoring average of 20 points. But we cannot fail to recognize that this average could not have been possible had it not been for the rebounding strength and playmdking of his other teammates. Although the Central cagers did not have a home court they were not hindered.

Coach
Bill Cole

Since 1955 when Coach Bill Cole began coaching Central's Varsity Basketball Squad, we have gained greatly by having Imperial Valley's best basketball teams. He has never had a team placing less than second in the league, and this year he has developed another winning team. He is possibly the best known and liked coach on campus and he is truly a fine man. Congratulations for a job well done.

Co-Player-of-the-Year

"Curtis has been the best basketball player at Central in the ten years I have been here," are the words of Coach Cole. Curtis scores, rebounds, and plays excellent defense. He is an extremely fast reacter to a situation in a game, which makes the difference between an average player and a good one. Curtis, a senior, was the top rebounder, and for the second year in a row, was the league's leading scorer. This year he was voted co-player-of-the-year, and will be extremely hard to replace.

Jesse Silva is a junior. He will be back to play again next year, and the team will be depending on him. He was probably the best ball handler and one of the better scorers in the league.

The Junior Varsity grapplers did a fine job this year of keeping their backs off of the mat. Each boy gave his varsity superior a battle for the top spot which took great fortitude. Many of their matches went by unnoticed and untalked about. They will be back next year and perhaps will get the recognition they deserve.

The Varsity squad had done very outstanding performances this year, but lacked depth in many events. In such events as hurdles and the 440, the Spartans were building for the future, while in the 100, 220, the shot put, the pole vault, and the long jump, they were very successful. As the annual went to press, the cinder season was just beginning, and the boys were moving towards a very successful year.

This year Central has come up with about 30 B & C swimmers, 10 of which will earn varsity letters. These Spartan swimmers compete against schools in California and Arizona. NEW REGIME SUCCESSFUL

Coach Jim Wilson

Coach Jose Ruiz

Varsity baseball proved quite successful under the first year coaching of Jim Wilson. The Spartans built their team around strong pitching and an iron clad defense. The team started slow because five prominent players were involved in S C I F basketball playoffs. Later in the season the hitting became another strong point in the Spartan monopoly. This year's baseball team will be remembered as one of Central's strongest and most successful teams. Next year Central will be without the services of seven lettermen though eleven will return.

Mgr. John Proo

JV SHOWS FORM

In the first year of Central's new baseball regime, coach Ensero's J.V. should prove to be quite strong. As this book went to press, the J.V. had not played any games, but the promise for a very fine season was present. Ensero has many talented ball players coming back from last year and with the addition of a strong group of Freshmen the 1965 season will be a very good one for the J.V. team.

What would a school be like without Spirit? What would a circus be like without clowns? The Spartans have Spirit—Spirit when winning or when losing —Spirit when playing the game.

One symbol of our tremendous pep is the Spirit trophy. Each year there is class competition to have their year engraved on it. Although the trophy is fairly new at Central, Spirit is not.

This year's sports section is dedicated to you—the Spirited Spartans of C.U.H.S.

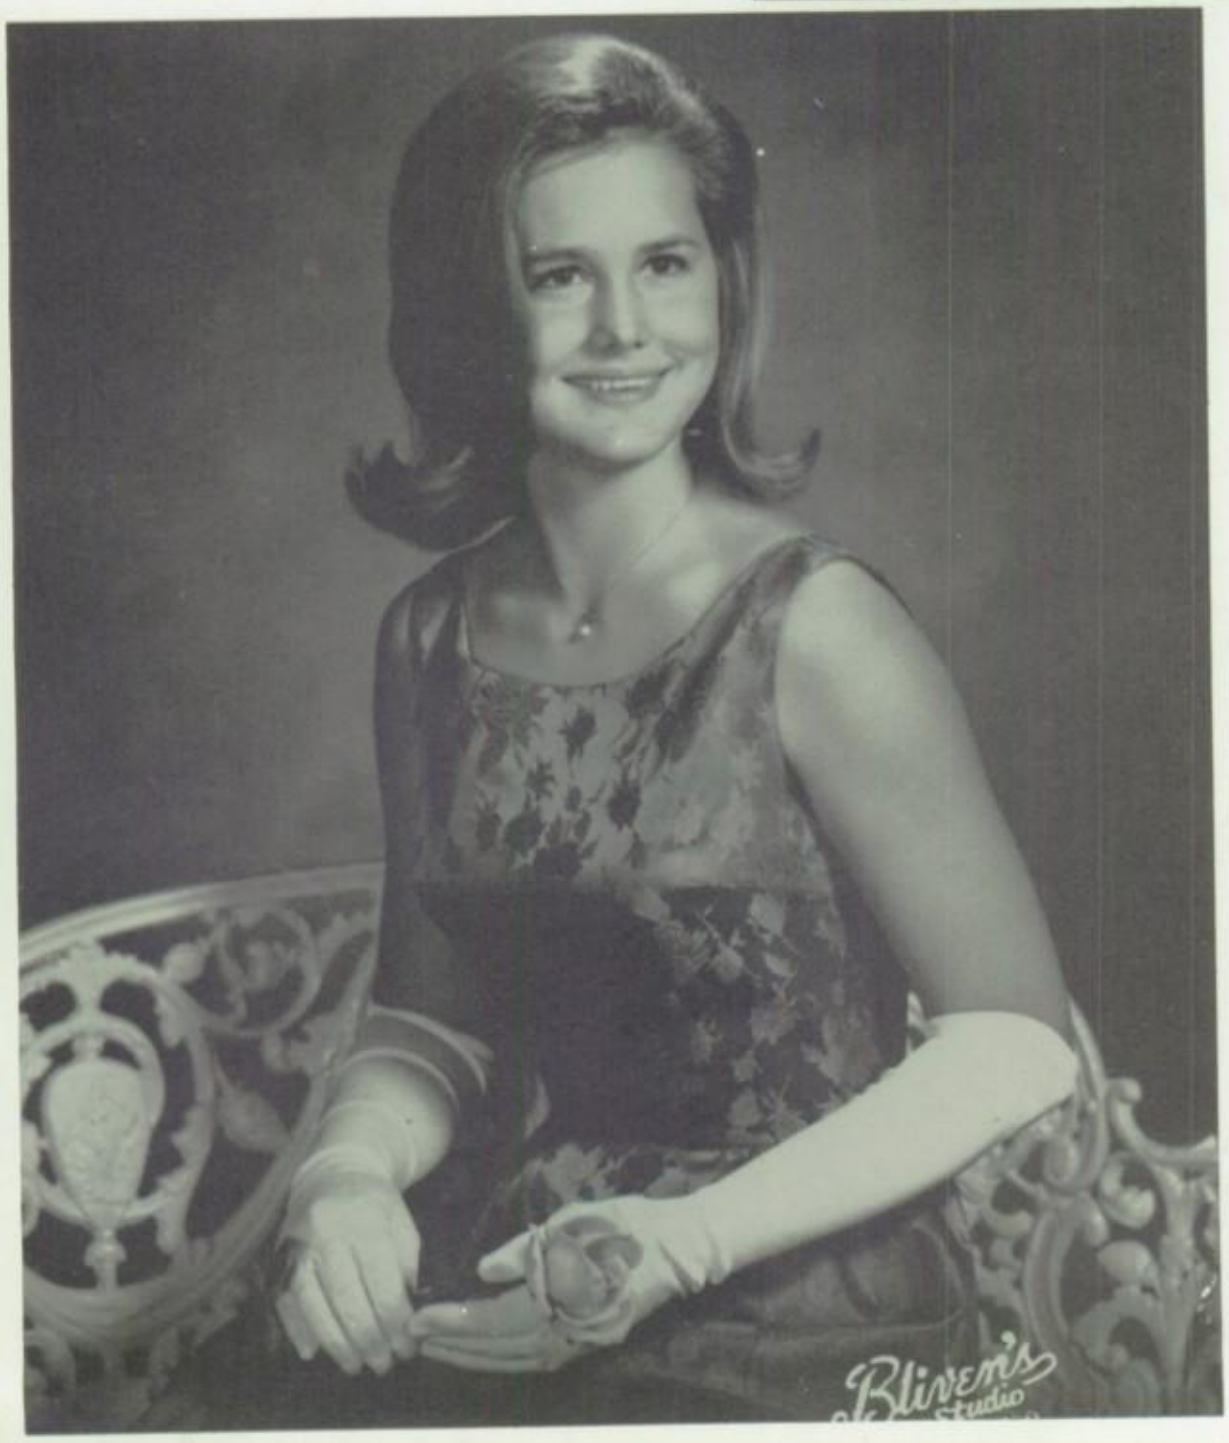
HIGHLIGHTS

The sparkle in Helen's blue eyes in comparison to the glittering shine of her royal crown, made her ever more radiant as Central's chosen queen. Donned in a powder blue formal, Queen Helen truly represented our school with grace and femininity. As a member of the La Solana staff her artistic talents were of great value, as well as her perpetually congenial personality. She is active in 4-H, Art Guild, and she was chosen FFA Sweetheart for her senior year. Helen portrayed a queen in the highest sense of the word by always being willing to aid in whatever way she was able. This 1964-65 Homecoming will certainly be one of Helen's most memorable nights.

PRINCESS BECKY

Leaving her songleading duties behind for one very special night, Becky, as always looked stunning in a winter-white formal. Having worked actively on the La Solana staff for three years—served as editor in her senior year—participated in such clubs as G.A.A., Pep Club, P.J. Club and as class secretary when she was a Sophomore, shows that Becky has displayed unlimited interest in C.U.H.S. Her friendly smile for everyone is just one of her many fine points. She well deserved the honor of being a Homecoming Princess for 1964-65.



PRINCESS ISABELLE

Isabelle, often called "Itibit" by her friends, was elegantly dressed in a green brocade formal, which was an ardent contrast to her light brown hair and brown eyes. This princess has completed her high school years with membership in such clubs as A.F.S., 4-H, G.A.A., and Pep Club. As a Junior, she was chosen class favorite, and as a Senior she served as class secretary and class editor for our 1965 La Solana. C.U.H.S. can certainly be proud of Isabelle as a Homecoming Princess and student.

CHRISTMAS QUEEN

PATSY

The heavenly lyrics to "An Evening of Enchantment" brought many couples in holiday attire to Central's Christmas Ball. Four lovely girls were selected to reign over the gala affair. NANCY MAHAN (freshman), JUDY YEAGER (sophomore), BEVERLY COOK (junior), and. PATSY WOLFE (senior) were the class choices. When the attendants and the queen-to-be were assembled at crowning time, applause filled the room after a moment of hushed silence, and the coveted crown fell to rest on our queen, MISS PATSY WOLFE. Beautifully dressed in a red velveteen formal, Patsy looked every bit the part of a royal queen.

Mardi Gras was the theme for the 1965 Senior Return, and Mardi Gras it was. The highlight of the whole gaiety came when CELIA LUNDY and BILL HENDERSON were crowned queen and king. As the evening ended, so did the last big social event of the year with the exception of the prom.

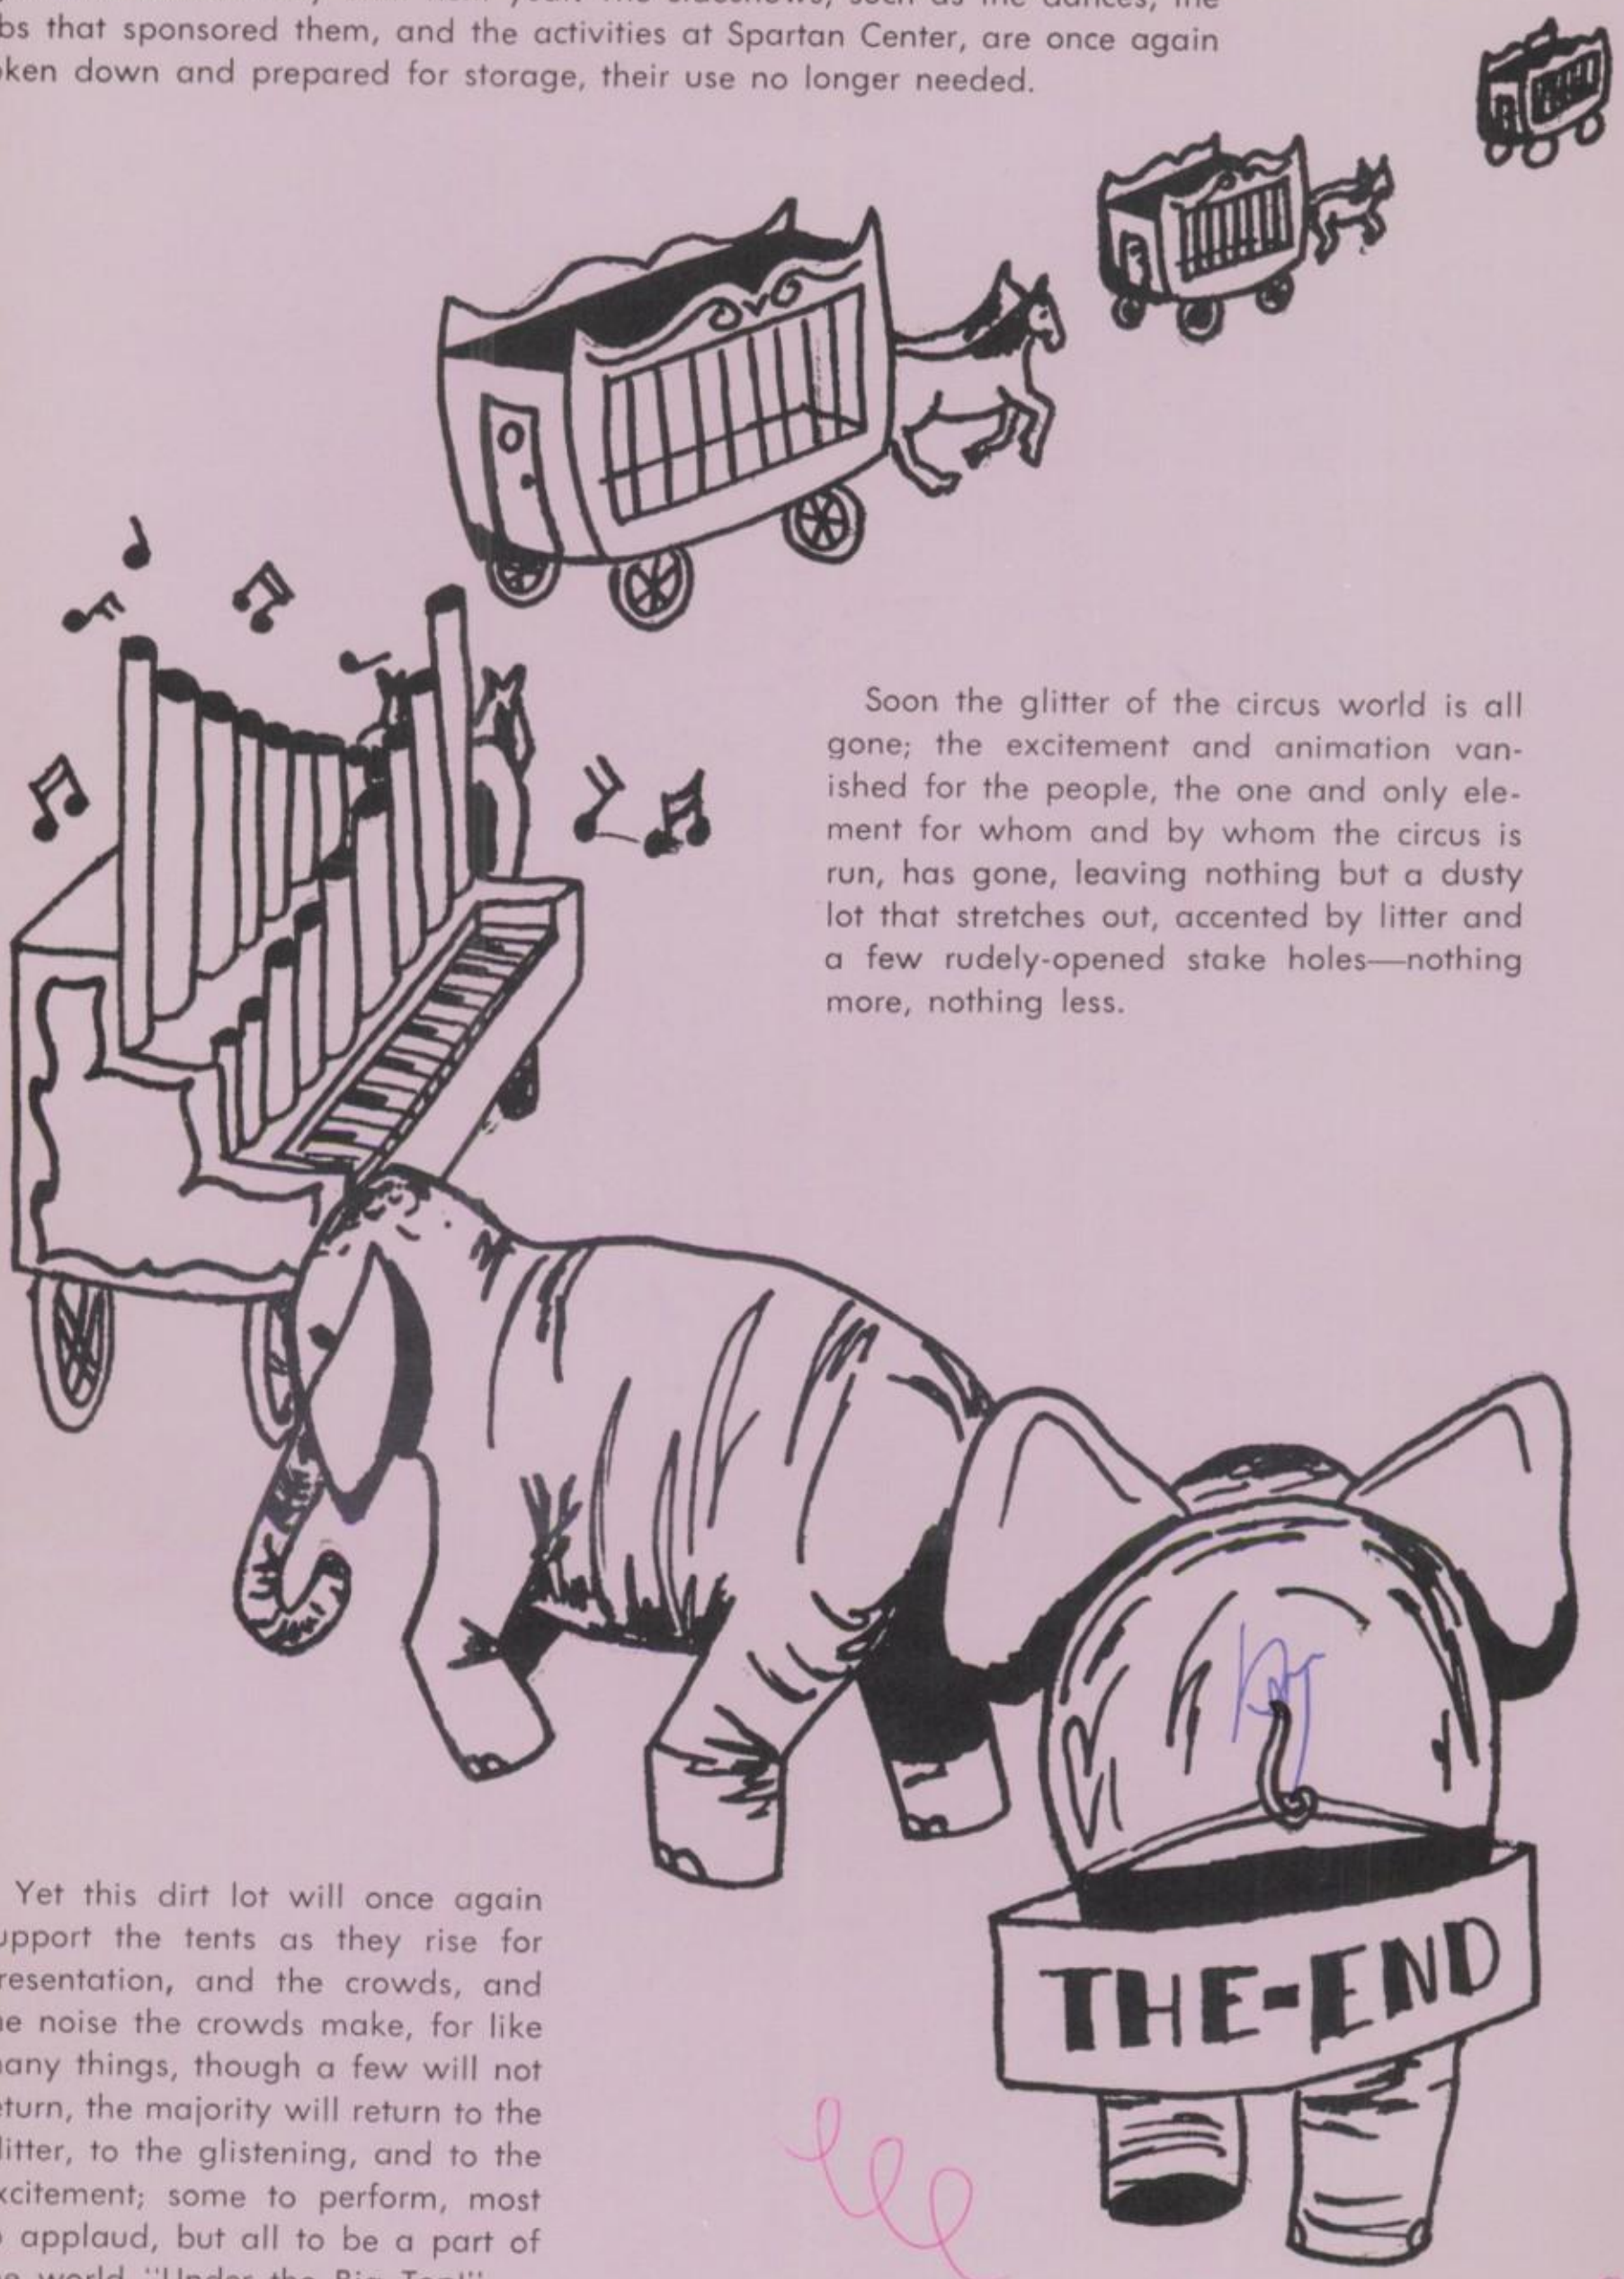
And so, the tent flaps close; the stakes are pulled; and the canvases folded. Another circus season has ended. Another year full of memories, of happiness, of tears, and of day-to-day routines has gone. The wild events are once again caged and rolled away until next year. The sideshows, such as the dances, the clubs that sponsored them, and the activities at Spartan Center, are once again broken down and prepared for storage, their use no longer needed.



Soon the glitter of the circus world is all gone; the excitement and animation vanished for the people, the one and only element for whom and by whom the circus is run, has gone, leaving nothing but a dusty lot that stretches out, accented by litter and a few rudely-opened stake holes—nothing more, nothing less.

Yet this dirt lot will once again support the tents as they rise for presentation, and the crowds, and the noise the crowds make, for like many things, though a few will not return, the majority will return to the glitter, to the glistening, and to the excitement; some to perform, most to applaud, but all to be a part of the world "Under the Big Top!"
